

Forest Carbon Partnership Facility

FCPF Capacity Building Programs

Benoît Bosquet, Facility Management Team

Asia-Pacific Indigenous Peoples Dialogue with the FCPF
Chiang Mai, Thailand | September 25-27, 2012

Current System

- $200,000 per year since 2009
- Expansion of existing program to ~$3.5 million (FY12-15)
  - Activities: ~$2.2 million
  - Travel & operational budget: ~$360,000
  - 3 regional + 1 global dialogues (in addition to Guna Yala): $940,000
- Contract system
  - World Bank signs a consultant contract with Indigenous Peoples' organization to provide certain work
  - World Bank owns and is responsible for the product

Reorganization Needed

- World Bank cannot own the products
- Indigenous Peoples' organizations and CSOs should be relied on to disseminate information and build capacity
- More information needs to be disseminated, and faster + more capacity needs to be built and faster
- Greater alignment between FCPF and FIP programs is needed
- Simplification for Indigenous Peoples

New Proposed System (1)

New Proposed System (2)

New Proposed System (3)

Questions

- Are you generally comfortable with the outline of the proposal?
- Any special requests in the Asian context?
- How would the Asian intermediary work?
- Who would the Asian intermediary(ies) be?
- How does an 'Asian formula' fit in the rest of the program?
This will need to be discussed in Doha!

An aerial photograph of a dense forest. The trees are mostly green, with some brown and tan patches, suggesting a mix of species or perhaps some dead trees. The forest is thick and covers a large area. The text "Thank you" is written in a green, cursive font in the center of the image.

Thank you

www.forestcarbonpartnership.org

Photo credits: Rhett Butler